

Terms and Conditions

If you do not accept these Terms and Conditions, do not use the any of the services associated.

"Captive Wi-Fi" is a widely used term for public guest networks that require you to complete a login step or view a "splash screen" before granting internet access. Your device is held in a restricted state until you pass through the network's Captive Portal.

Definitions

'The Company' is the supplier of any services

'The Client' is the reciever of any services